Thurston Co. dentist suspended due to physical or mental health condition

OLYMPIA — A Thurston County dentist's license has been immediately suspended by the state Dental Quality Assurance Commission due to concerns that she is unable to practice safely due to a physical or mental condition.

Sherilyn Malloy (DE00006693) was charged in Thurston County District Court with violating a protection order. These criminal charges were dismissed when Malloy was found incompetent to stand trial. Malloy allegedly visited the Department of Health in an incoherent state and responded to staff in rapid, nonsensical, and erratic speech. The commission also charged Malloy with failing to meet the standard of care and with other violations related to record keeping, record confidentiality, and failure to comply with a prior discipline order.

Malloy has 20 days to request a hearing to contest these charges. She cannot practice in Washington until these charges are resolved.

Documents for this case can be seen online by clicking "Health care provider" on the Department of Health website. Copies can be requested by calling 360-236-4700. That number can also be used to file complaints against health care providers in Washington.

The Dental Quality Assurance Commission protects public health and safety and promotes the welfare of the state by regulating the competency and quality of health care providers under its authority.
